Approaching the end of his address. Ambassador Gibson made brief mention of the possibility of an agreement between all nations to abolish submarines.

"If it should eventually be possible," he said, "to reach a general agreement between all naval powers to abolish submarines, the United States would not be unfavorable to its consideration. My government realises, however, that such action in order to be acceptable must necessarily be universal."

The American delegation this eventing issued a statement explaining the nature of their proposal and giving an approximate estimate of the tonnage that would have to be scrapped, providing existing construction programs were completed.

The United States, this communique maintains, would have to exapimmediately about 60,000 tons of such craft upon completion of its present building program, while Great Britain similarly would have to scrap about 60,000 tons.

"If the plans outlined in the American proposal were adopted on the basis of 90,000 tons of submarines for the United States and the British Fupire, respectively, and $4,000 tons for Japan." the statement reads, "no scrapping of submarines would be necessary until the present building programs were brought to completion."

Most of the vessels to be scrapped under the American plan, it is point-necessary until the present building programs were brought to completion."

Most of the vessels to be scrapped under the American plan, it is pointed out, are now or soon will be obsolete.

"This plan," the statement concernes, stops competitive building, which is the chief object of this conference, averts scrapping new construction and permits moderate replacement and building programs within clearly defined limits.

"If a lower limit of total tonnage of cruiser, destroyer and submarine classes were agreed to, the scrapping programs would be correspondingly increased and possible building programs would be correspondingly increased and possible building programs would be curtailed." Building of New Machine to Meet Needs of Future Service Predicted

ROME, June 20. (P) -The time ripe for the serious organization of transoceanic aviation lines on the transoceanic aviation lines on the basis of the transoceanic ourney be-ing divided into several laps, in the opinion of Commander Francesco De Pinedo, Italian long-distance aviator, Pinedo, Italian long-distance aviator, as expressed in an interview with Tribuna today.

The use of machines like those of Charles A Lindbergh, Clarence D. Chamberlin and Commander Richard B. Byrd is impracticable because of the frequent necessity for lengthy waiting for favorable atmospheric conditions, Commander De Pinedo was quoted as saying. This was not true of the Santa Maria, in which he crossed from Newfoundiand to Portugal by the way of the Azores, he said. (All three of the American planes

"It is necessary to spilt up the trip into several laps and to await the construction of a nuschine capable of greater mobility and a more limited consumption of gasoline, permitting the carrying of freight and passengers," Commander De Pinedo said. "This machine will certainly be built."

(12,500 or 18,750 miles,") he continued.

Referring to his own plans, the Italian aviator, who has just completed a flight that carried him over four continents, said that his fondest dream would be a flight around the world, but that there was nothing yet definitely decided.

"It is necessary to build a land machine with a cruising radius of 30,000 kilometers, using the most limited amount of gasoline," he said. "I am convinced that this will be soon built by Italians, who now lead the world in this direction."

TO START FOR AMERICA

PARIS, June 20. (Exclusive)—Lieut.
Droubin, the French long-distance flyer, said today that like Lieutenant-Commander Byrd, he is ready to hop off for America at the first sign of favorable weather. He hopes to pass Commander Byrd in midocean, and si prepared to greet the American with wartime pistol flares.

Lieut. Dourhin has tested the Parman-Goliath biplane, using but one motor, which easily carried the machine. He is prepared to finish the last 1-p of the journey to New York with one motor, to conserve gas.

Naval Lieutenant Le Bris will accompany Lieut. Droubin. Lieut. Le Bris, a Brittany sailor, is an expert navigator, and will direct the biplane on both trips, inasmuch as Lieut. Broubin hopes to return to France by air. The biplane has two 600-horsepower motors, and is known as the Blue Bird.

nonstop record.

Under their plans, the aviators hope to start from the Northolt eirdieme during the first week in August, taking turns pilloting a Pokker monoplane with a 450-horsepower monoplane with a 450-horsepower Bristol Jupiter engine.

The flyers estimate that the trip will cost £4000, of which they have £2000 and hope to have the other £2000 by Wednesday.

HOPES TO MAKE DASH

MUNICH (Bavaria) June 20. (P)—
Ernst Udet, noted German airman, is anxious to fly to America and back to Germany.

"If a suitable machine is placed at my disposal." he said today, "I am prepared to undertake a flight to the United States and return in the course of this summer."

If arrangements can be made, the aviator proposes to take the Azores route for the westbound flight, returning over the northern course. While planning to land at the Azores on the outbound trip, he believes that the return flight could be made on a nonstop basis.

Udet expects to enlist the services of Capt. Von Butler; a former Zeppelm commander and now one of the Lufthansa pilots, as expert aviator and radio operator, and one pilot. He is skeptical of the feasibility of a Berlin-New York-San Francisco nonstop flight as proposed by Otto Koennecke.

conducted through all available publicity mediums were made today at the convention here of the Pacific Coast Advertising Clubs' Association by David Whitcomb, president of the Pacific Coast Empire Association, and P. S. McCilvinis, passenger traffic manager of the Southern Pacific.

Mr. Whitcomb told the more than 800 delegates that advertising can be applied to the problems of the Pacific Coast only through concerted efforts by the communities. No one appeal is adequate, he said, to start any considerable number of tourists westward. The Pacific Coast, which, he said, now is losing a large portion of the tourist travel to which it is entitled, must put forth a united effort along national lines to bring its advantages home to the iraveling public.

Check for $2743 Sent to Red Cross as Proceeds of Benefit Sale Here

Representing the entire proceeds from the benefit auction wale conducted at 951 South Broadway on the 15th and 16th Inst., a check for $2743.01 was presented yeaterday to Chairman MacWatters of the local Red Cross chapter by George Fischer, president, and Dean S. Bedilion, secretary of the Los Angeles Auctioneers' Association, sponsors of the afair.

In turning the check over to Mr. MacWatters, President Fischer highly lauded the generasity and co-operation of local merchants and the public toward making the auction benefit a success. Twenty-five Los Angeles auctioneers participated in the two-day sale, working at half-hour intervals to dispose of the 3000 articles.

With small donations continuing to be received at the Red Cross head-quarters, 610 Transportation Building, the Los Angeles fund climbed to approximately $357,000 yesterday afternoon, exceeding the city's quota by some $7000. The Times fund reached $170.887.88.

Chairman MacWatters declared that no renewed appeal will be made for additional funds, despite the further need, although contributions will be welcomed at the Red Cross head-quarters.

gram of the Hollywood Stars for the next six weeks, and it's a program that should just about vindicate Bill Lane as a first-class prophet or make him out a predigious, prevarientor. You know Bill, in spite of the fact that his ball club holds indisputed possession of the Coast League cellar, swears his bays will finish in the first division. They got off to a good start on the new schedule last week by trouncing the Missions five out of seven games on the latters' home lot and with a revamped line-up they may knock the Angels out of their seventh-spot berth this week. The addition of Pat McNuity, the former Cleveland star, and Miner Heath of Toronto should give panch to the Stars where punch was needed, and with the same good pitching they have been getting fill's boys may look like a classy cisb at last.

For a real track battle the mile race at the National A.A.U. track and field championships at Lincoin over the Fourth of July holidays should be a thriller of the first degree with Nick Carter of the L.A.A.C. and Ray Conger, the Missouri Valley champion, furnishing most of the thrills.

Carter beat Wide in 4m. 16.8s, here and Conger won the national collegiate crown by winning the mile event at Chicago in the Missouri La.A.C., will also be among those present, and if he decent do another "Trilby" as he did in the Wide meet he may be heard from in the championships.

OBSERVATIONS LONDOS MEETS

BY THE INNOCENT BYSTANDER, BILL HENRY

BILL TILDEN'S suggestion that we ought to have open tennis tournaments in which professionals and amateurs could both compete seems to have opened the way for something along this line. There isn't any doubt in the world but that a tournament in which Suanne Lengien, just for example, would be pitted against Helen Willis, would draw the biggest crowds in the history of tennis. Whether Tilden really wants these open tournaments because he himself has an idea of turning professional is something we don't know. We do know that professional tennis isn't going to be any gigantic money maker unless some method such as the open tournament is discovered by means of which the professional can demonstrate his superiority over the amateur.

Meantime the Southern Callfornia championships are percolating along the marvelous new olant of the Los Angeles Tennis Club. The entires of various northern stars including Jerry Sitratford, runner-up for the Pacific Coast championship, will insure pienty of class. The L. A. Tennis Club courts, clubhouse and pool have made it famous for some time past, but the addition of a flock of new courts, including two of the practice variety and an additional court of championship size, will make it the finest tennis club in the country. Cliff Berd, the new president, has picked up the plans of rom Bundy and Simpson Sinsabaugh, its previous residents, and is making things hum.

Olympic temorrow night, and Jones is being given a slight edge over his bronzed rival because of the showing he made here two weeks ago against Joe Stecher.

Any edge which may be given Jones is very slight as both men are evenly matched as to solility. Jones will probably outweigh Londos by a dozen pounds, but a dozen pounds or two dodyn, for that matter, have proven to be nothing to the most besuttifully muscled wretter in the world.

to be nothing to the most besutifully muscled wrestler in the world.

Londos is known as the "Little Giant Killer" of the mat, and bigger men than Jones have fallen before his headlocks. In his list three bouts here the Texan has shown that his hook scissors were working better than ever before and his splits were good enough to give Stecher, who has the strongest pair of legs known, plenty of trouble.

Either one of these holds will be good enough to beat Londos, provided, of course, "Tex" Jones gets his hold first Londos's short legs should make him an easy victim to the splits, while the hook scissors, as Jones manipulates them, are good enough to beat anyone.

Jones will be heavier than he was when he met Stecher when he crawls under the ropes after Londos. The Greek is in perfect shape and Jones will have to be in the best shape of his career to beat him. Both men will wind up their training today.

I had some doubt as to the practicability of this race as the ignoble idea occurred to me that some of the runners might be tempted by passing box cars but Mr. Pyle assures me that this objection has been foreseen and met. He says the athletes who will be running for a first prize of $25,000, will all be put on their honor as sportamen to do all their running on foot. This solves the last difficulty and I am sure the race will be a great success.

Extra Power Delivered with flying smoothness

This extra range and activity of Hudson power, as everyone knows, are advantages exclusive to the Super-Six principle. It can never be confused with any other car.

In every phase of performance there is effortless ease, from its smooth, swift getaway, to sustained high speed, and back to the soft instantaneous stopping action of its four wheel brakes. Power is so smoothly delivered in all ranges of performance that you are scarcely conscious of it.

With the development and increased capacity of the Super-Six principle came also the creation of a chassis engineered in every detail to provide safely, continuously and economically for the speed, power and safety of the motor. A ride will convince you, with the increasing thousands, that it is the "World's Greatest Value".

PHILLIPS' Milk of Magnesia

Better Than Soda

Instead of soda hereafter take a little "Phillips Milk of Magnesie" in water any time for indigestion or sour, acid, gassy stemach, and relief will come instantly.

Besides, it neutralizes acid fermentations in the bowls and gently urges the souring wate from the system without purging. It is far more pleasant to take than soda.

Try a 25c Bottle

For fifty years genuine "Phillips Milk of Magnesia" has been prescribed by physicians because it overcomes three times as much acid in the atomach as a saturated solution of bloarbonate of soda, leaving the stomach sweet and free from all gasses.

Insist upon "Phillips." Twenty-five tent and fifty cent bottles, any drug store. "Milk of Magnesia" has been the U. S. Registered Trade Mark of the Charles H. Phillips Chemical Company and its predecessor, Charles H. Phillips, since 1875.—[Advertisement.]

A BATH TUB that tests automobiles

S-P-L-A-S-H through the bath tub goes the General Motors oar. Out onto the slippery road it dashes. On go the brakes!

What is the reason for such torture of an innocent automobile?

The answer is that the engineers at the General Motors Proving Ground take nothing for granted. They want to know what happens when a car ploughs through water. They insist too on measuring, with special machines which they have built, just how quickly the car can be stopped and just how much pressure of the foot is required to stop it.

Altogether General Motors has 136 different tests by which cars are proved as they never have been proved before; nothing is left in doubt. All of which means that you are buying doubly assured safety, reliability and comfort when you choose a General Motors car.

The War Department declined to comment on the move except to say that the relief of Col. Davis, who made a hurried trip to Washington some weeks ago in connection with reports of thefts and forgeries of official diplomatic documents, had been effected "without prejudice against him and for the best interests of all concerned."

Col. Davis will be assigned to temporary duty in the office of assistant chief of staff here in charge of militar, intelligence, after which he will be assigned to the first cavalry division at Fort Blisa. Tex.

At the time of Col. Davis's visit to Washington the State Department issued a statement explaining that Col. Davis and other Embassy officials had conferred with Assistant Secretary Olds concerning the asserted missing papers with a view to clearing up the situation. The State Department has never confirmed that any of its diplomatic papers have been tampered with.

Edison Executive Home from National Gathering

Says Rate Reduction Policy Among Main Topics

Highlights of Atlantic City Meeting Reported

How the light and power industry has fulfilled its function of public service by the promotion of efficiency and the passing of the benefits along to the consumers through reduced rates, was the chief topic of discussion at the recent convention of the National Electric Light Association at Atlantic City, R. H. Ballard, executive vice-president and general manager of the Southers California Edison Company, said yesterday upon his return.

Mr. Ballard was particularly interested in the discussions along this line because of the periodical reductions in rates initiated in Southern California by his company. The Edison company recently announced a reduction in light rates averaging 14 per cent to give reflection to the economies and improvements accomplished in the last several months.

Current assets of about $21,000,000 compare with current liabilities of $6,400,000. About $8,000,000 has been spent thus far this year for new machinery and equipment to increase capacity. Production is 50 per cent ahead of this time last year. months.

The 10,000 men and women connected with the electric industry, who were in attendance at the convention, were told, Mr. Ballard said, that electricity is the cheapest commodity figuring in the household budget. Present rates for the country as a whole are lower than in 1913, while wages to labor have increased 100 per cent, and the general average cost of living has increased 70 to 75 per cent.

CONSTRUCTIVE ADDRESSES

Sales of the 446 Ligget drug stores, operating in various sections of the United States, totaled 84.784.480 m May, an increase of 8394.972, or 9.04 per cent, over the same month of 1926. The Liggett stores, which also do business in Southern Californis, are operated by the Louis K. Liggett Company, a subsidiary of the United Drug Company of Boston.
Sales for the first five months of 1927 were $33.846.885, compared with $20.593,785 for the corresponding period of 1926, a gain of $3.283,127, or 15.8 per cent. CONSTRUCTIVE ADDRESSES character are especially helpful to the light and power industry, the Edison executive believes. Among the constructive addresses, he mentioned the one given by Dwight P. Davis, Secretary of War, who outlined a plan for the operation of electric power utilities in case of war, and the necessary steps of preparedness to be undertaken from year to year by the electric companies.

Be also commented favorably on the addresses of David P. Houston, former Secretary of the Treasury, who talked on government and national economic conditions: Albert C. Ritchie of Maryland, who urged more interest by husiness men in the operation of the government; J. F. Shaughnessy, president, National Association of Railroad and Utilities Commissioners, who talked on regulation: William Green, president, American Federation of Labor, who paid tribute to the electric light and power industry for the help it has given labor in more production per man and higher wages; N. L. Noon, director, American Farm Bureau Federation, who told of the agricultural problems; Mrs. John D. Sherman, president, General Pederation of the decration, who told of the agricultural problems; Mrs. John D. Sherman, president, General Pederation of Women's Clubs, who dwelt on the advantages of electric service in the homes, and Charles E. Mitchell, president, National Gity Bank of New York, who discussed national and international financing.

The dividend will be paid on July 1 to stockholders of record the 28th inst.

NEW YORK, June 20. (Exclusive)—Bond dealers have their eyes on the record sum of more than $550,000,000 to be paid investors in July to lift the market from its recent somewhat lethangle position. Precisely what the dividend and interest payments will total next menth nobody knows but the indication is that more funds will become available for reinvestment than ever before on any similar occasion.

the application of the money soon to pass into the hands of investora. Even in Wall street the approach of the January and July dividend and interest periods always raises expectations of an important change which, when it comes, very often is not all that had been satisfacted. That a perceptible improvement in the bond situation will come with the release of these large sums no-body doubts, but sight should never be lost of the fact that many investors in anticipation of their checks to come already are making their plans for reinvestment.

Greater quiet in the hand market in the last few weeks does not disturb those who understand how enormously the flow of new capital issues has increased this year. Up to this morning the 1997 volume of stock and bond offerings had reached the record total of $5.513.385.00. That is comfortably ever $1,000,000.000 in excess of what had been marketed in the same 1926 period. Notwithstanding the continued heavy flotations declining tendencies in bond yields, begun four years ago, have persisted in the first half of the present year. This is another way of saying that the long upward swing in bond prices begun in 1923 has been maintained so far this year despite the rising wave of new flotations.

duct has been dynamited by a handful of lawless skulkers in the night.

This marks the seventh act of major sabotage against the great Owens Valley conduit in three years—six dynamitings and one daylight seisure by an armed mob of the control gates of the Aqueduct. The aggregate damage to physical property and in the loss of water is more than $1,000,000.

Notwithstanding that every one of these outrages has occurred in a sparsely-settled community where the doings of every resident are well known to every one else, and where the inspiration for the dynamitings is flagrant and notorious—There has not been a single arrest or prosecution. There has not been filed a single complaint against any one of the perpetrators of these deeds of violence. There has never been a real investigation.

Such inquiry as was made by the Los Angeles Police Department has been halted on a technicality and the last of the fifteen detectives sent there withdrawn.

Sheriff Hutchinson and Dist. Atty. Hession of Inyo county, scene of all the crimes, shrug their shoulders in affected help-lessness.

The Governor's representative talks vaguely of stopping outrages by "arbitration."

Mayor Cryer gives his customary imitation of a vacuum. The water board hires an army of guards who patrol the seduct while fresh charges of dynamite explode under their

A principle cannot be compromised. Let Owens Valley force of public opinion and by active pressure upon her wenforcement agencies deliver the dynamiters to justice and adjust any hardships wrought.

Whatever the faults and ineptitudes of some of our water ficials, the people of Los Angeles are just and generous. Wagy & Co., In involved in the appeared before the dynamiters are in jail. The right thing and the fair thing libe done.

If there have been injustices they will be corrected—after edynamiters are in jail. The right thing and the fair thing libe done.

But Los Angeles cannot be appeared before the dynamiters are in jail. The right thing and the fair thing libe done.

But Los Angeles cannot be terrorized by outlaws or dynamited into compromising a crime.

Bad laws, if they exist, should be repealed a soon as possible; still, while they continue a force, for the sake of example they should a religiously observed.

SMOKING UP

An unfortunate dweller in the Missiesippi Valley brought up in St. Louis with all his earthly belongings in one small cigar box—and they were nickel cigars, at that.

There are two kinds of camper-tour-ists, decent ones and those who seek out beauty spots, pitch their tents there for a night or two and then pass on, leaving the places looking horrible.

RAILBIRDS
Politicians talk a lot about their love for the dear old farm, but when it comes to the actual work ranch life seems to suit them best. Countless thousands of 'em are natural-bora fence-riders.

MISLEADING
Probably the reason why one half the world doesn't know how the other half lives is that a lot of people imagine the high-life stories in the saxy magazines really hold the mirror up to American high society.

MANNERS
There's considerable difference between a gentleman and a perfect gent. A perfect gent is one who removes his hat promptly—even estentationaly—when a lady enters the elevator, but keeps right on smoking.

O'N THE BOOF

Health Commissioner Bundesel of Chicago says that by not walking oftener parents are setting a bad example to their children. He recommends at least "two miles of oxygen on the hoof" each day, if one would preserve one's health. Had he said "roof" instead of "hoof" it would sound more convincing, considering the number of cars that would have to be dodged in a walk of two miles in a modern public street.

Disloyal verse

In holding the associate editor of the New York Daily Worker, a Socialist journal, without bail, Justice Murphy of Manhattan said: "Anybody who would publish a poem like that ought to be in Red Russia." The poem described the Statue of Liberty Enlightening the World as a "symbol of depravity." Well, there's some satisfaction in the fact that, though the hudge couldn't send him to Russia, he could and did send him to jail.

R USSIA 28 BLACKBALLED

R Soviet Russia is again asking for elec-tion to the society of civilized nations. The United States has never considered Communistic behavior exactly clubby and has refused consistently to recognise the Russian application. Lately the bear that walks like a man but behaves like a por-cupine has played a lot of dirty little tricks on respected members of the fellowship of nations and the soviets now find in their box of smart tricks a number of significant black balls placed therein by neighbors who object to Russia's energy to roster supver-sive campaigns in other people's territory. There is hardly a club where an applicant for membership can become popular by kicking at all the rules, trying to tear up the by-laws and whispering mean things about those who already belong.

Russia has found it impossible to organ the a club of her own. Germany looked like a good associate to enlist as a co-founder, the soviets thought, but the German republic has made great strides itself in regaining world-wide respect and it was a foregone decision that led the shrewd and orderly German reads to the shrewd and Even Chins has not proved such good soil for the planting of permanent crops of Bolshevism, and the net result of so of Bolshevism, and the net result of so-viet energies and expenditures in the Ori-ent appears to be nationalistic rather than Communistic in the Russian sense. Bent upon discovering an excuse for a war with some nation or other, preferably a new and weak neighbor like Poland, Russia has been warned—in a friendly way according to dispatches—that the European powers de not look with favor upon Bolshevistic propagands and the thin Red line has been reduced to an isolated sector hemmed in at Moscow by the declarations of great powers and the domestic threat of civil war.

Soviet leaders will hardly dare turn their cannon against Poland in the face of all this plainly stated disapproval. Europe does not want war—much less a conflict in which any great power would be thrown into partnership with the soviets. The period of reconstruction following the World War has reached a stage where the powers see real prosperity close at hand and the prewar hatreds have been quite successfully smothered in post-war co-operation. Germany's refusal to team with the soviets removes the probability of war from European gossip and proves beyond any doubt that the best weapon against war is domestic progress made possible by international co-operation.

Blackballed by the rest of the civilized tional co-operation.

Blackballed by the rest of the civilized world, Russia cannot fail to realize that its conduct has been reprehensible from a world standpoint. The world needs Russian co-operation and Russia needs the friendship of other nations, but the world can get along without Russia much easier than Russia can get along alone. The United States as a democratic and friendly people awaits the reformation in Russia that will permit the use of a white ball and the establishment of international relations to the great good of both Russia and America.

profoundly grateful to wise statesmen who have been such excellent judges of inter-national relations that they have refused all along to recognize the disreputable so-viet leaders on whom European statesmen are now turning their backs. The soviets have never belonged to our club.

DOOR OLD DAD Dad's Day has come and gone; but did not appear to strike fire. Hardly an institution celebrated the event. Few churches and service club Lad programs in his honor. Everybody seemed to forget him or never had any interest in him. Pos-sibly the difficulty lay in the fact that it is hard for dad to celebrate himself.

Mother's Day elicited poems and post-cards. Soloists and orators heaved feelingly. Everybody were a carnation. Floral pieces, boxes of candy and other gifts reminded mother that she counted.

Dad is not complaining—he is not jeal-ous of mother in the least for the hig day she is able to knock down. He would rath-er have her have a whole week than a second for himself in a contest. He has grown accustomed to step aside and have mother go first. He lives a life of self-re-

However, having a day set and nobody celebrating it gives him a jerk at the heart. While he may not know what to do with a day, yet he wonders why the movement provokes to little enthusiasm. As an institution Dad's Day is a flat tire.

and the Carpenter.

It may be merely a case of a nursery rhyme repeating itself—as grown-up history so often does. Without accusing C. C. Julian of deliberately stealing the thunder of the beach-combing Carpenter or S. C. Lewis of trying to emulate the weepy Walrus, there may be pointed out the striking similarity between their ventures and those of the oyster gatherers in Lewis Carroll's wise ones in Oyster City winked their eyes and shook their heads to imply "they did not mean to leave their oyster beds." But the foolish and unsophisticated "hurried up all eager for the treat."

Then it came the Carpenter's turn. He was a spellbinder, eloquent and versatile. He could ring the changes on a variety of subjects to hold the attention of the crowd. His high-pressure talks thrilled the foolish

But when the preliminaries being over the Walrus suggested it was time to start feeding, some of the oysters began to get uneasy. As the poem has it: "But not on us," the oysters eried,

Turning a little blue,

"After such kindness that would be A dismal thing to do."

"The day is fine," the Walrus said,

"Do you admire the view?"

The Carpenter had done the spellbinding.
The Walrus employed more subtle methods. He was sorry for the small fry, but he had an eye for the fatter and more luscious bivalves. We read:

"I weep for you," the Walrus said,
"I decepty sympathize;"
With tears and sobs he sorted out
Those of the largest size."
The Carpenter lacked the finesse fisplayed by his friend, the Walrus. On the other hand, the Walrus maintained his poise

"It seems a shame," the Walrus said,
"To play them such a trick,
"After we've brought them out so far

And made them walk so quick."
The Carpenter said nothing but "The butter's spread too thick." With the Carpenter gobbling up the fool-ish little ones and the Walrus the foolish big ones the pair between them made a thorough clean-up of the oysters. How much was left when they got through? The last stanza tells the sad climax.

"Oh. oysters," said the Carpenter,
"We had a pleasant run:
"Shall we be trotting back again?"
But answer came there none.
And this was scarcely odd because They'd eaten every one.

The weather was fine—no cloud was in the sky—it was a typical California day. The Walrus and the Carpenter were out walking. They were evidently hunsry. The Carpenter was contemplating a scheme for mopping up the quantities of sand on the beach which he knew covered much small sea food.

But the Walrus feared the operation would take too much time. Even at this stage of the game he displayed his preference for big fish. Then the oyster beds among the rocks attracted their attention. These promised substantial returns.

"Ok, oysters, come and walk with us," the Walrus did beseech. "A pleasant walk, a pleasant talk upon the briny beach." The wise ones in Oyster City winked their eyes and shook their heads to imply "they did".

New experiences had such a lure for Bobert Louis Stevenson that he sometimes found himself drawn into remarkable attuations and, of course, many disappointments. One night the author donned a worn-out waist-oost over a cheap black fiannel shirt and tramped the alums and suburbs of London until dawn in an endeavor to get himself arrested and prove his fixed belief that justice, at least in the hands of its subordinate officers, holds one pair of scales for the ragged and another for the respectable.

the ragged and another for the respectable.

But in vain he dodged through the shadows, darted precipitously from doorways and in general tried to arouse the suspicions of one policeman after another. Though some officers stopped him, one and all saw through him and refused to take him seriously as a member of the criminal classes. His night was not entirely wasted, however, for as he confided to a friend at whose house he presented himself weary and dirty at dawn, his reward was at least a fumber of entertaining conversations with patrolmen, ending generally in confidential disclosures of their private affairs and feelings.—

School Teachers As Mothers

LOS ANGELES, June 17.—[To the Editor of The Times:] Some of the old wives' tales that we have heard for years are lately receiving a joit. Old traditions, proverbs and alleged wise sayings are quite often found out to be entirely wrong advice and misleading statements when they are checked up for securacy.

For example, take the old saying that "school teachers make poor mothers." I have heard that dosens of times, with the explanation that because they are engaged in teaching work they know little or nothing about housework, rearing children or being a good companlon to their husbands. Because they are professional women they are not supposed to know how to take care of a house or how to train a child in the way it should go.

train a child in the way it should go.

Although the effects of family neglect and parental ignorance are every day thrust before the teachers' eyes in the classroom, where she has not one child to help train, but fifty or more at a time, still school teachers are not supposed to know anything but readin', 'ritim' and 'rithmetic.

The examinations that teachers have to take, in order to receive a diploma, license and certificate to teach, sometimes require them to have a knowledge of hygiene, child psychology, athletics, sociology, first aid, health laws, music, literature and a few other little things, yet the old idea still persists, occasionally, that school teachers make poor mothers.

The point of my whole article, however, is this, if anyone still thinks that "school teachers make poor mothers," then I offer for their consideration and for a little food for thought—Mrs. Lindberghi CARROLL VAN COURT.

volving $1,500,000 between the Unit-d States Commissioner of Internal Revenue and thirty-four individuals Revenue and thirty-four individuals or organizations in Southern California and Arizona, are in progress in the Pederal Building.

S. L. Trussell of Minnesota, a member of the United States Board of Tax Appeals, yesterday began two weeks of hearings of appeals by the taxpayers enumerated. Later in the week C. N. Trummell, another board member, will arrive to institute next week a second series of hearings so complaining taxpayers will not have to go to Washington, D. C., with sil their data, witnesses and evidence to present their appeals from taxes claimed by the revenue collector.

TAX DEFENSE STAFF

TAX DEFENSE STAFF

Arthur H. Fast of Kansas City, chiet of special attorneys for the revenue commissioner, assisted by M. E. McDowell and P. M. Clark, special attorneys, are here for the commissioner, defending the taxes his department has levied. The total amount actually in dispute was roughly calculated by Fast as around $1,500,000. The case of Robert Brunton Studios. Inc., and its successor, United Studios, Inc., was before Trussell yesterday. In that case the revenue department asserts specifically that there is due the government income and profits taxes amounting to $13,622 more than was paid. The studios appealed to the board from the claim. The difference between what the revenue department says is due and what the studios say they should pay was declared to have grown out of the value attached by the department to the studios' invested capital set-up. The department figured at far less than the studios certain assets that were prominent in the organizing of the Brunton Studios. The principals at stake call for a decision that will affect considerably more than the specific tax deficiency asserted.

Thousand "Store-Power"

IKE the man who operates an engine of enormous "horse-power," the SAFEWAY MAN—through the thousand "store-power" at his command—is equipped to far out-distance all others in the race to satisfactorily serve the food-buying public. Never before in the history of Western merchandising have such facilities for handling the necessities of life without waste been available to men trained in their efficient operation. Such facilities in the hands of an organization of men whose inflexible purpose it is to reduce waste in distribution to the minimum have enabled us to wipe out many useless profits and overheads which the ordinary dealer must pay and add to the price he charges the consumer. Through this unparallelled "store-power" the "spread" between producer and consumer is materially reduced — to your very great profit.
